CITY COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION

Little Business of Importance
Considered.

BONDS WILL BE ISSUED

To Pay for Various Street
Improvements.

Monthly Report of Mayor Scherff
Evokes Applause—City May Purchase Park Entrance Lands.

The city council held a short meeting, Monday evening, and transacted little business of importance. J. V. Wilson, chairman of the street and alley committee, is still at the James-town exposition and was not present at the Monday evening session.

An ordinance was adopted, authorizing the issuance of bonds to the amount of $3,050 to pay for street improvements. The bonds are divided as follows: $500 for the paving of Mary street between Silver and Joseph streets; $500 for paving Elm street from Church street to Mt. Vernon avenue; $300 for paving George street from Main street to Prospect street $150; for paving George street from Main street to Prospect street; $150 for paving McWilliams Court from Center street to the north end of the court; $400 for paving Mill street from State street to the first alley east of State, the same alley between Mill and Center streets, and two alleys running east and west between State street and the first alley east; $50 for the sanitary sewer and cellar drain on Bellevue street from the first alley east of State street to Ballentine avenue; $250 for a sanitary sewer and cellar drain in the alley between Prospect and Oak streets from the Nypano railway to the first alley south of Silver, thence east to George street; $250 for a sewer on Haine avenue from Church street to Mt. Vernon avenue; $200 for a sewer on Avondale street from Silver street to Blake avenue; $250 for a sewer on Herr street from Silver street to Edwards street; and $100 for a sewer on Superior street from Prospect street to Frey avenue.

An ordinance was adopted providing for the following special assessments: 65 cents a lineal foot to pay for a sidewalk on the south side of Reed avenue; 61 cents a foot for a sidewalk on the west side of Madison avenue; 60.2 cents a foot for a walk on both sides of Olney avenue, south of Columbia street; 61.6 cents a foot for a sidewalk on the south side of Superior street; and 59 1-2 cents a foot for a sidewalk on the south side of Avondale street.

Another ordinance levying an assessment of $2.79 a foot to pay for the paving of Girard avenue, and making individual assessments for sewer taps, was adopted.

City Clerk Fies read a communication from the Sun Vapor Street Light company of Canton, stating that the complaint recently made by the council regarding the poor lighting service in some parts of the city, had been received. The company stated that it would notify its lamp-lighter here to remedy the trouble and also said that an official will be sent here soon to inspect the local plant.

The monthly report of Mayor Scherff, showing that $181.55 was collected in fines and licenses during September, was adopted. This excellent collection, which is something like the amounts received by the mayor every month since the mayor went into office, was received with applause from the council.

Mr. Phillips made a motion that the board of public service be instructed to negotiate for the purchase of a piece of land to be used as an entrance to Lincoln park from Main street. He said that the property in that vicinity is being rapidly bought up and that it would be advisable for the city to purchase before the prices get too high. He mentioned a piece of land owned by Frank E. Coon as being desirable. The motion was carried.

In his talk to the council, Mr. Phillips said that it will not be long until the street railway is extended to the park. He suggested that the service board see that the track is laid at the proper grade, so that should the city ever want to pave Fairground street to the park, it can be done without moving the track.

A petition for constructing a stone walk on the west side of Dix avenue from Wilson avenue to the north line of the C. C. & St. L. Railway, was referred to the street and alley committee.

PARLETTE SAYS THINGS

About the Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course.

FINEST AMERICAN TALENT

To be Heard in Marion During Coming Winter.

Two Thousand Dollars Worth of the Best Brain and Talent in this Country For Two Dollars.

"That's a great lecture course you have on the boards for this winter, Mr. Oatey, a truly great course. If I were told to make a course regardless of expense—just to get eight numbers, the best just in all America—I wouldn't hesitate to take yours—Stuart, Green, Vaughan, Ott, Gillilan, LaFollette, Katharine Ridgeway and the Jubes." This was Ralph Parlette's comment yesterday. He is on the platform himself, is in close touch with the lyceum workers, and continually hears the comment on their work, hence, his opinion is based on facts and not testimonials.

"In selecting a course, you have a thousand different tastes to consult. There is a great section of your audience that wants to laugh, Strick. Gillilan will split their sides. Another section wants music and elocution. The Ridgeway and Ferguson Jubilee companies will supply them. All want solid meat in their feast, and your oratorical section will give saint and sinner their portion, roasted, fried, fried, fried. It's a feast of the heavy dishes and the trimmings, without the soup. You haven't any soup, not a single cheap number on the list. Everyone is a top-notch in his or her line and no greater on the platform."

What about Green, who comes October 17? He is new man here. "If Marion people had ever heard him, your church wouldn't be large enough. A few years ago he was an Episcopal minister in the West. A lecture bureau found him, made him the greatest catch offer of recent years, and put him on the platform. His success has been phenomenal, caused only by a few such men as Vaughan and Stuart, also to speak here. Thomas Green in his "Key to the Twentieth Century" gives the greatest picture of our country's greatness you will ever hear, and with it he points out the country's dangers in a way to stir one. I remember being in a Chautauqua tent two years ago while Green was giving this lecture. A violent storm came up and threatened to wreck the tent. The rain soaked the crowd. But no one left, nor was there a symptom of stampede. The man had that audience so charmed that no one left, nor was there a small thing as a thunderstorm. He can pile up the tremendous and sway a crowd as can few living men. You start your course with a good growing color, Green, and you won't be blue when it is over."

Father Vaughan is another of these monumental successes. The stage lost a Mansfield when he left it for holy orders. If the year had a thousand days, Vaughan could fill it, for he is unable to accept half the calls for him. The beautiful part of it all is that the money he gets for lecturing all goes to the support of the orphan's home he founded up in Wisconsin.

Amherst Ott is a lot of dynamite fired with a laugh. He is a rapid fire gun with a whole powdermill of brains behind it. Chicago hasn't any better. I go to a town six months after Ott and find the people still talking about his "Sour Grapes" and "Haunted House". The I. L. A. the association of lyceum workers, last month at Joliet made him their president.

"George Stuart, well most everybody has laughed and squirmed under Sam Jones' old running-mate. He is Sam's logical successor and fights the devil with the same kind of fire. It is a glorious gospel that pours out of that funny old mouth of his, that sticks to the ribs after the laugh is gone."

"Then you are to have Senator LaFollette, too big for Wisconsin too brave for the whole railroad lobby, too honest to be influenced too earnest to be lecturing for the mere money—the man who can talk four hours and drink four pitchers of ice water."

But there's a lot more. Strick. Gillilan jumped into fame like Lord Byron—just woke up one morning to find himself famous with his "Off agin, on agin, gone agin Flanagan." And for four years he has been shooting his broadsides of fun from the platform. His fun is the meat over a skeleton of philosophy. He is one of the few great writers who can speak. As for Katharine Ridgeway, Marion need not be told, she has been here. I think she commands the highest fee of any lady reader. She has fine musical support. Ferguson's Jubilee rank with Miss Ridgeway in their line. Madame Buckner is a wonderful colored soprano. Will Buckner has been handed down unimpaired from the old "Tennesseans," and the company has done great work all over the country.

"I congratulate you. It is a liberal education just to sit through such a course. We don't get our education from books so much as from the men behind the books, and here is the chance to hear a particularly bright lot of them. It is worth the struggle for any youngster to save or borrow his pennies to get in on this. It will give many of them a push upward, this winter. And to think—two thousand dollars worth of the best brain and talent in America for two dollars! Sav, isn't that something to jar the bargain counters!"

GROSE ESCAPES IN EIGHT MINUTES

From Seven Pair Handcuffs and Two Shackles.

A Well Balanced Bill is Being Offered at the Marion Family Theater.

Russel J. Grose, the hand-cuff king at the Marion Family theater, had everything his own way last night and was successful in removing all handcuffs and shackles and with apparent ease. A number of local gentlemen had fixed it up to catch him at his game but the king proved himself invincible and made them all sit up and notice.

At the first performance last evening, Grose was locked in seven pairs of handcuffs, besides having two pair of shackles on his ankles. In exactly eight minutes after the sheet was thrown over him, he stepped forth a free man. Grose is a wonder and his act is one that should be appreciated. He will give special exhibitions at the Family Theater Tuesday evening and at the city jail Wednesday afternoon.

The Probat trio introduced some very clever stuff in the way of singing and dancing. Clogging on roller skates was the feature of the act. "The Valadons," tight and slack wire artists, gave a performance that made a hit. Williams and Healy, black face comedians, scored good and hard.

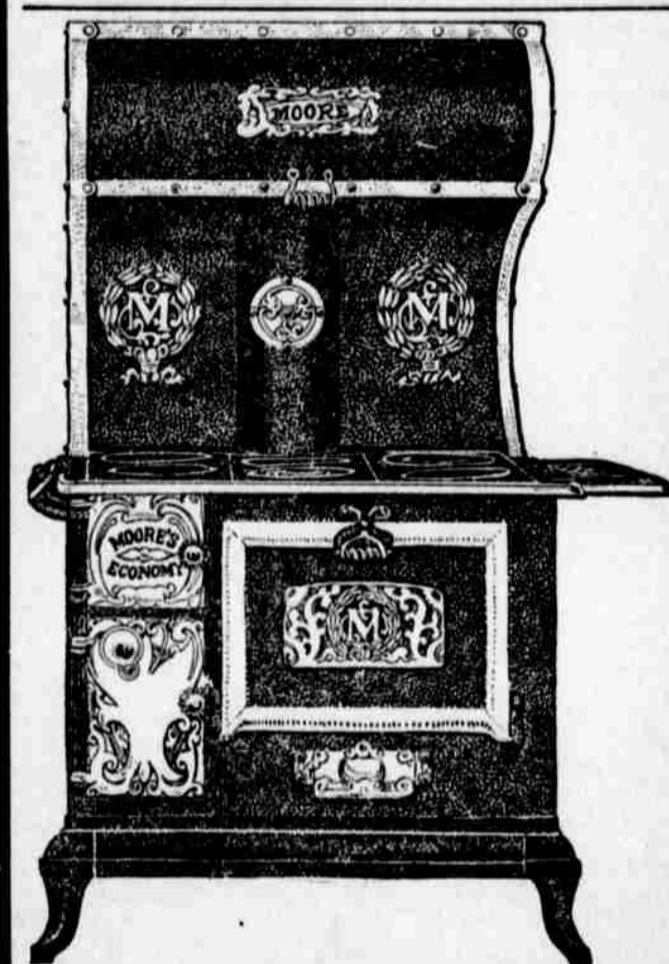

Pearl Rowe sang "Nobody's Little Girl" and the moving picture machine reeled off several yards of "Elephant's Picnic" and "Human Clock."
